DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Color photographs and color drawings are not accepted unless a petition filed under 37 CFR 1.84(a)(2) is granted. Any such petition must be accompanied by the appropriate fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(h), three sets of color drawings or color photographs, as appropriate, and, unless already present, an amendment to include the following language as the first paragraph of the brief description of the drawings section of the specification:

The patent or application file contains at least one drawing executed in color. Copies of this patent or patent application publication with color drawing(s) will be provided by the Office upon request and payment of the necessary fee.

Color photographs will be accepted if the conditions for accepting color drawings and black and white photographs have been satisfied. See 37 CFR 1.84(b)(2). The drawings filed 07/22/2004 contain what appear to be color figures, which have not scanned well. To rectify this issue, a petition may be filed, OR a set of grayscale or black-and-white outline drawings may be provided.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 7 and 8 are objected to because of the following informalities: The claim dependency is unclear. In the preliminary amendment filed 07/22/2004, claims 1-5 were cancelled. However, claims 7 and 8 still indicate, "the apparatus of claim 1". The examiner assumes this to be a minor oversight. For the purpose of examination on the merits, claims 7 and 8 have been treated as if they depend from claim 6. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 9 and 10 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: the exercise steps to recruit upper body and neck muscles simultaneously and the exercise steps to restore range of motion to the cervical spine in various directions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lockett (US Pat. 4,832,333). Lockett describes the same invention as claimed, including: a headband (1) and a strengthening device (3) connected to the headband, as in claim 6.

Regarding claim 7, the headband comprises a headband strap (Fig. 2) having a first end and a second end (left and right sides of the headband strap shown in Fig. 2) attachable to each other through male and female adhering material (9, a hook-and-loop fastener shown in Fig. 3), and a snap hook (19) attached to the headband to hold stretching tubes.

7. Claims 6, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hulsmann (US Pat. 554,636). Hulsmann describes the same invention as claimed, including: a headband (3) and a strengthening device connected to the headband (5), as in claim 6.

Regarding claim 8, Hulsmann shows an adjustable elastic tube (5) having a first end and a second end, each end fastened slidably through an adjusting buckle (see Attachment 1, examiner's annotation of Fig. 1), passes freely through a handle (passes through handle at (6), shown in Fig. 2) and is tied to the adjusting buckle forming a loop at each side (Fig. 2). Hulsmann further shows: a handle (8) on each side to hold the elastic tube, an adjusting buckle (4) rigidly attached to each side of the elastic tube, the adjusting buckle slides along the length of the elastic tube to adjust its length and resistance (Pg. 1, Col. 2, lines 57-62).

Regarding claim 9, Hulsmann shows methods of exercise to recruit upper body and neck muscles simultaneously (Pg. 1, Col. 2, lines 79-84).

8. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Woodruff. Woodruff (US Pat. 6,036,625). Woodruff describes the same invention as claimed, including methods of exercise to restore range of motion to the cervical spine in various directions (Col. 3, lines 36-40).

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See form PTO-892 for cited art of interest.
